

DEPARTMENT OF MANAGEMENT

The Saint Louis University Department of Management provides practical and career-driven education in the disciplines of entrepreneurship, human resource management and sports business to enhance students' prospects for meaningful employment and substantive contributions that further the mission of their employers.

The Richard A. Chaifetz School of Business (<https://www.slu.edu/business/>) at SLU is committed to providing a world-class management education, with an emphasis on preparing each student to compete effectively and face the challenges of a global marketplace.

Chaifetz School faculty focus on innovative teaching methods that include personal attention to students and assisting with developing internship opportunities. This emphasis provides practical, real-world training that prepares graduates to excel in today's business world.

The management department supports three student organizations: the SLU Entrepreneurs' Club, which provides students the opportunity to help operate a small business; and the Society for Human Resource Management and Sports Business Association, which both offer students networking, leadership and communication development opportunities.

The entrepreneurship minor is also available for students studying at Saint Louis University-Madrid (<https://www.slu.edu/madrid/>).
